RAILROAD YARDS AT AMBOY TO BE BUILT LARGER THIS SEASON

Illinois Central Has Outgrown Capacity of Yards There

Amboy, June 11.—The Illinois Central railroad company will let the contract soon for an extension of the bridge across the Green river, making it wide enough to carry several tracks and extension of the north yards across the stream to a point about half a mile south.

The roundhouse will be built out 20 feet to the west to make the stalls large enough to accommodate the new extra-size locomotives of which eight have been ordered for the heavy freight traffic between Freeport and Clinton, and a number of new stalls will probably be added.

Representatives of several construction companies were here this week looking over the ground. Wednesday was the last day for receiving bids on the contract, and it is expected that the work will be started within two weeks.

Business Heaviest in History

The enlargement of the yards and roundhouse has been made necessary by the increase in the business in the Amboy district, which is now the greatest in the history of the road.

The number of cars handled in the Amboy yards in the month of May just past was 52,763—breaking all previous records. The growth has been steady for several months past, as shown by the following figures:

January, 41,737.
February, 42,926.
March, 42,820.
April, 42,597.
May, 52,763.

DIXON PEOPLE IN AUTO WRECK NEAR ROCK FALLS

Geo. Eichenberg Pinned Beneath Overturned Machine

A Ford touring car owned and driven by Frank Hughes of this city returning from Rock Falls last evening on the Rock Island road left the road just west of the Rock River Country club golf course east of Rock Falls and turned over twice without seriously injuring any of the occupants. Caretaker George Eichenberg of the court house and his wife were passengers in the car and had been visiting at Rock Falls.

The driver of a late touring car going west failed to dim the lights when he approached the Hughes machine and the road being narrow at this point, Mr. Hughes pulled to the side of the road to allow the larger car to pass. Blinded by the lights from the approaching car, he could not see and while driving very slowly his car slid over the embankment, turning over twice. Mr. Hughes and Mrs. Eichenberg were thrown out of the car and received bruises and scratches, but Mr. Eichenberg was pinned beneath the car and suffered painful bruises. He was removed after the car had been lifted off his body and taken to his home in Dixon. The machine escaped with a broken windshield and the top somewhat damaged.

BREAK CAME SLOW DURING EARLY VOTING

Lowden Gained Most And Went Into Lead On Fifth Count

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Coliseum, Chicago, June 12.—At the end of the eighth ballot at the Republican national convention today just as a tide for Harding was rising throughout the hall a recess was taken until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. At the first the Harding managers, former Governor Willis and Myron Herrick protested against the recess, but after a platform conference agreed to it and on leaving the conference Mr. Willis said:

"It will be Harding as soon as we come back."

Just before the recess Missouri attempted to change her vote to throw all 36 to Harding but delayed and at the same time it became known that accessions to the Harding column were about to come in from Kansas. It was also reported that Massachusetts would go to Harding on the opening ballot after the recess.

Harding Gains Strength.

The Harding tide which began last night when after a day of unsuccessful balloting the leaders went into conference to find a compromise candidate, began rising this morning when the convention assembled, and continued to rise steadily throughout the balloting until it ran over the hundred mark. When it passed the 100 mark there were signs of breaking from many sides. Word came to the hall from Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, that his nomination of Mr. Harding would not be displeasing to him and the word generally spread throughout the convention that many delegations were preparing to "get on the band wagon" with the coming ballots.

Discuss Vice Presidency.

During the noon recess it was understood, vice presidential candidates were to be discussed. In that connection Senator Harding's conference late last night and early this morning was taken. His managers challenged the statements, declaring that Johnson did not control the delegates. The Harding managers went down town to again confer with the Johnson forces and try to bring them into a program last night by which Johnson would be given second place if he would take it, and if not a "say" in the decision.

A large group of leaders on the platform said it was important that they have time to talk over the situation before entering upon another ballot.

Expect Harding Victory

They assumed there was no longer any question but that Harding would win and they wanted to consider thoroughly who was the best qualified and available man for the vice presidency. The more conservative leaders were opposed to Senator Johnson, although some of them thought it would make for party harmony if a place on the ticket were offered to him.

It has been generally known that Senator Johnson was very much opposed to Senator Harding's nomination. As soon as it became known that the convention gave evidences of being about to take Harding for its nominee Senator Johnson went to Senator Harding for a conference to go over the whole subject.

LABOR DEMANDS INVESTIGATION MINE CONDITION

"Unspeakable Outrages" in West Virginia are Condemned

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Montreal, June 12.—Charging that "unspeakable outrages" inflicted upon the mine workers of West Virginia by hundreds of armed detectives and gun men employed by the coal interests have become a matter of "national shame" the United Mine Workers of America today called upon the American Federation of Labor to demand a senatorial or congressional investigation into conditions there.

The resolution which declares that Governor Cornwell has "miserably failed" to do his duty asserts that there are 40,000 mine workers in West Virginia who are arbitrarily denied opportunity of becoming members of a labor organization and also are prohibited from enjoying any of the privileges of citizenship.

Referring to the recent conflict between agents of the Baldwin Feltz Detective Agency and municipal officers of the town of Matewan, resulting in the loss of a number of lives, the resolution declares great numbers of these armed agents, without authority of law, are being mobilized in the counties of Mingo and McDowell.

Benjamin Schlesinger, international president of the Ladies' Garment Workers announced today his organization would establish a union garment factory and union stores in demonstration of the possible to manufacture garments under ideal conditions, pay first class wages, restrict the working day to seven hours, make a small profit and yet sell at reasonable prices.

CONVENTION RETURNS

Reports of the balloting at the Republican national convention which was deadlocked early this afternoon and then recessed until 4 o'clock this afternoon, will be received by The Telegraph this evening and will be posted on the Telegraph's bulletin board at Stratton & Covert's cigar store.

the delegates to recess after the eighth ballot and there was great confusion through the convention while conferences on the subject went on. When order was restored Mr. Herrick, of Kentucky, the Lowden manager, moved a recess until 4 p. m. There were loud cries of "No, No." It was seconded from Pennsylvania and California.

Frank B. Willis, who nominated Harding demanded a roll call unwilling to have a recess in the midst of an apparently rising tide for his candidate. Mr. Willis was called to the platform and told that the recess was being taken at the request of the Harding people. He returned to confer with his delegation.

The Ohio delegation refused to agree to the recess and former Governor Willis and Myron T. Herrick, denying that they wanted a recess went up to the platform for a conference. While the conference was going on the convention was standing in the greatest confusion. Chairman Lodge finally induced the delegates to take their seats. The conference on the platform evidently resulted in something to the satisfaction of Mr. Willis and Mr. Herrick for they agreed to the recess.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Coliseum, Chicago, June 12.—At 10:35 o'clock Chairman Lodge called the fifth day's session of the Republican national convention to order and for the fifth ballot.

When the convention was called to order the New York delegation was still out trying to determine what to do with its vote. Indiana cautioned on the floor.

As the men who conducted the dark horse conference arrived they said the situation was unchanged and the attempt to nominate Senator Harding was being continued. Some of the men running the Lowden campaign on the floor predicted that the convention would keep right on balloting until the Lowden total passed Wood's.

Nicholson of Chicago offered the prayer today.

At 10:45 the fifth ballot was ordered and the clerk called the roll.

BUTLER RELEASED VOTES

Nicholas Murray Butler released his delegates early and the caucus of the New York delegation showed this way:

Lowden 41; Wood 24; Harding 6; Coolidge 5; Butler 4; Hoover 3; Johnson 3; Polindexter 1 and W. L. Ward, the West Chester county leader.

Lowden Takes Lead

Governor Lowden passed General Wood on the fifth ballot and the prediction of the Wood managers that the count would give the first ballot of the day was not fulfilled. Lowden ran up to 303 while Wood only touched 299. Johnson fell to 133 1/2.

There was no nomination on the fifth ballot. Wood lost 15 and a half votes and Lowden both made gains.

Wood-Lowden Tied

The sixth ballot like all its predecessors failed to produce a nominee. It did bring, however, two breaks in the solid delegation. Michigan broke and gave Johnson votes to Wood, and Ohio broke and gave some of the Harding votes to Wood.

On the sixth ballot Wood, Lowden and Harding all made gains, taking them from the field and it appeared that Wood and Lowden were tied with three hundred and eleven and a half votes each. Harding had 89, a gain of 11 over his showing on the fifth.

Michigan Breaks First

Michigan's early victory which had been standing solid for Johnson broke on the sixth ballot today.

Eleven of the thirty broke to Wood and one to Lowden. The remaining eighteen stood pat for Johnson. It was the first break in the solidly instructed delegations.

Joy For Lowdenites

When New York threw 42 to Lowden, a great roar swept the convention hall, and the Lowden supporters went into a mad demonstration. That threw Lowden a gain of eight and a half on the balloting so far.

Ohio Broke in Sixth

The lineup of the Ohio delegation broke on a poll during the sixth ballot, some of the Harding strength lost, some of the Harding strength vote was: Harding 35; Wood 13.

Seventh Ballot.

There was no nomination on the seventh ballot.

The first gain on the seventh ballot went to Harding he got 2 from Alabama.

Wood lost one in Georgia by an absent delegate and alternate. It stood 9 for Lowden and 7 for Wood, with one absent.

In Indiana Lowden gained 4; Wood lost 2 and Harding gained 1.

Michigan called for a poll and there were rumors of break away from the solid Johnson block of 39.

Wood gained a gain in Michigan on the seventh ballot. The poll stood, Johnson, 16; Wood, 13; Lowden, 1.

Wood, Harding and Lowden all made small gains from New York on the seventh ballot.

Harding got a gain from Missouri, raising his gain on the six ballot to 9. Wood gained 12 and a half by the time Nebraska was reached.

In New York Wood lost one and Lowden gained two making him forty-four from the state.

Gains for the Wood forces in Ohio caused another demonstration on the floor. The word came up from the various managers that they intended

Hot Weather Hits
Oat Market Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 12.—Hot weather had a decided bullish effect today on the oat market, opening ranging from 1/4c to 2 3/4c higher with July 1.06 to 1.07 were followed by a setback.

Weekly Grain Review.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 12.—Oats have made spectacular jumps in price this week with transactions aggregating a huge total. Unexpected bullish aspects of the government crop report were up 5 1/2 cents to 9 1/2 cents; corn was 1/4 cent off to 2 1/2 cents higher and provisions varying from 15 cents decline to 75 cents advance.
Fervish demand from shorts whirled prices skyward for oats in particular. Meagerness of receipts of oats intensified the stampede. After the oats market, however, had risen far above any previous high record price, immense realizing sales led to an unusually sharp reaction. Notice that much corn was being diverted to Chicago from Omaha, Kansas City and St. Louis did a good deal to keep the corn market under comparative restraint.
Pork and ribs sympathized with grain but lard was weak as a result of heavy stocks on hand.

REPUBLICANS TAKE RECESS AFTER FOUR
BALLOTS; DEADLOCK

Harding Made Gains.
On the seventh ballot the Lowden and Wood positions were scarcely changed while Senator Harding made all the gains, carrying him past the 100 mark.
Order Eighth Ballot
By the return of the absent delegate, Wood got back the one he lost in Georgia. That restored the Georgia poll, Lowden nine, Wood eight. Wood got one vote from Connecticut which was taken from Lowden's 13. Delaware gave two of her six to Harding.
On the eighth ballot Michigan broke again and Lowden votes appeared. At the time Charles E. Werrent former national committeeman from Michigan was talking with the New York delegation and Lowden accessions were expected.
Michigan's ballot as it stood on the eighth ballot was 10 for Johnson, 13 for Wood, and 7 for Lowden.

MUCH HARDING TALK
The all night conferences among leaders had put Senator Harding of Ohio at the head of the dark horse group.
All night long and early this morning the heads of various groups were conferring and the trend of most of the conferences seemed to be to find some way to turn Wood and Lowden strength to Harding.
The leaders worn and sleepless, were late in reaching convention hall, but the delegates with their interest raised to fever heat came early, hoping to see the thing finished that they might get away for home today.
The leaders remained at the downtown conference rooms until the last minute, many of them snatching a few moments of rest as they held bedside conferences. Meanwhile Wood, Lowden and Johnson forces were attempting to tighten lines and both the Wood and Lowden groups were predicting they would show greater strength on the opening ballot of today than they did on the closing ballot of yesterday when the convention adjourned after a hot crueling ten hour session. Just before the convention assembled the New York delegation cautioned trying to decide on where to put its strength. Both Lowden and Wood were claiming accessions from that quarter.

Prase Harding's Record
Arguments used by backers of the compromise were that Harding had a good record, was not involved materially in the senatorial campaign expenditures inquiry and had the confidence of conservation and progressive interests.
Conferences between leaders of all factions looking to a nomination to day began at many hotels and clubs immediately after adjournment yesterday. They were still going when the sun brightened Lake Michigan. The outcome still was in the depths of turbulent political waves.

Negotiations between faction leaders followed separate group councils. They culminated in the call of Senator Harding upon Senator Johnson.
Not until many influential party stalwarts felt that the triangular deadlock between the "big three" offered little hope of an early nomination that insured party unity did the Harding movement make progress.

RICE-BISHOP WEDDING—

At 3 o'clock this afternoon, beneath a dimly lighted bower of syringas, peonies and palms in the living room at the home of Dr. James W. Rice, 421 W. Second street, his youngest daughter, Myrtle Fern, became the bride of Charles F. Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Bishop of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. G. Waggoner, pastor of the Christian church, the bride and groom being unaccompanied as they took their places beneath an arch of syringas which suspended a single large wedding bell.

As the forty relatives and closest friends who witnessed the ceremony were assembling Elmer E. Rice, brother of the bride, sang, "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Promise Me." Clinton Fahney accompanying him, and immediately after his service a wedding luncheon was served in the beautifully decorated dining room of the Rice residence.

A color scheme of pink and white was tastefully carried out in decorating the dining room, streamers of white being festooned from a wedding bell in the center of the room to the sides of a large table, while pink roses adorned smaller tables about the room. Peonies and syringas were the decorations in other rooms.

The bride's costume was a charming creation of silver lace over white satin and she carried a bouquet of roses. Her traveling costume was dark blue, with jade green blouse and hat in costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop leave this evening for a short wedding tour in the east, and will return to make their home in this city. They will be at home to their friends after August 1, at 313 E. Third street, in a home which the groom recently purchased and which is now being fitted up for them.

Any fruit may be canned without sugar. Fruit that is to be used for pies and puddings is really better if canned in its unsweetened juice. Some fruits preserve their flavor and are sweeter if the sugar is omitted until the final cooking. When canning by the cold pack method, plain boiling water is used in place of syrup. Canning the way our mothers did, the fruit is cooked till tender in clear water and canned in sterilized cans in its own juice.

Whatever method is used the principle is the same, perfect sterilization and exclusion of air.

Women Who Suffer

Should find relief from their sufferings by taking the woman's temperance Tonic and Nerve, which has helped so many women, some of them right in your neighborhood. When the household cares and the worries of everyday life have dragged you down, made you unhappy, and there is nothing in life but headache, backache and worry, turn to the right prescription, one gotten up by Dr. Pierce fifty years ago, which has helped many thousands of women in this country. It is called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and can be had in every drug store in the land, in tablet or liquid form.

SOUTH FREEPORT, ILL.—"When I reached middle life I became run-down and in need of a tonic. I saw Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription advertised for just such conditions as mine and decided I would take it. It surely proved to be all that is claimed for it, and I came through this critical time with none of the distressing ailments which affect so many women, such as heat flashes and dizzy spells, but so strong and well that I could scarcely believe it myself. I certainly would not hesitate in recommending Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription to all women approaching middle life."

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tell why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind, is caused by auto-intoxication—which means self poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent, throbbing pain and distress called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar, and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour acid stomach, begin the phosphate hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or more a miserable moment.

REPORT MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says we must keep feet dry; avoid exposure and eat less meat.

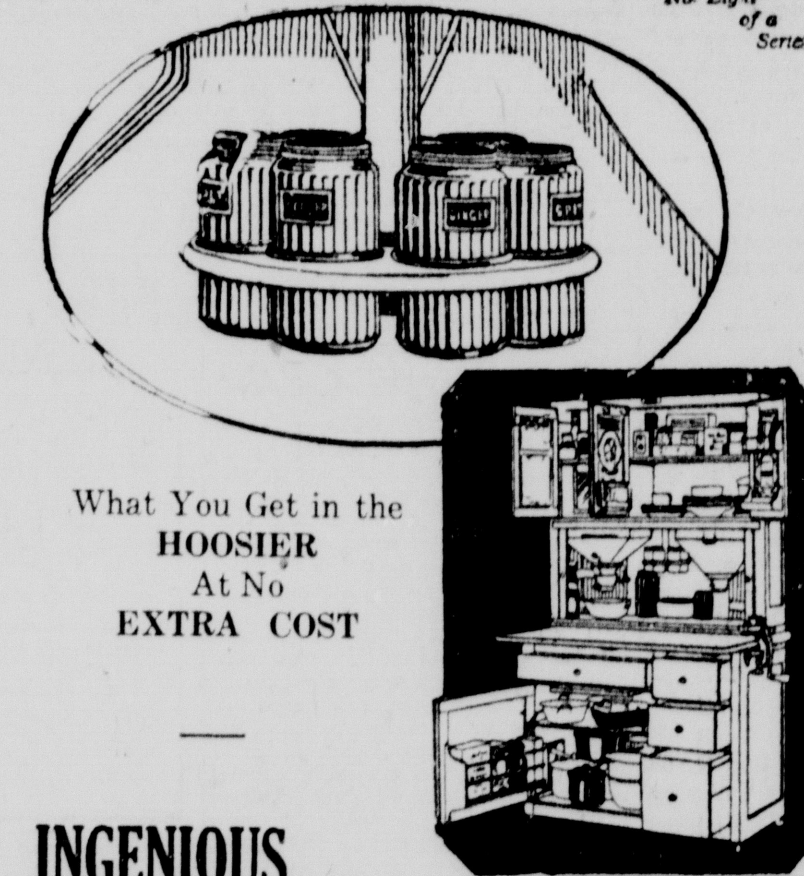

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid. Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxins, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

Our Candidate for President
FRANK O. LOWDEN

SINS OF THE PARENTS
Pearl Odell, a young wife, has been sentenced to the penitentiary in New York for a term of 20 years.
Her husband is in the death house
awaiting the executioner.
They were found guilty of slaying
the girlhood lover of the young wife,
the man, she said, betrayed and deserted her.
The jury deliberated for hours before sending the young couple to prison. Evidence proved that she had urged her husband to the murder; that she had aided him in the killing; indeed, that she herself had thrust a file-dagger into the body of the man she once loved, after he had been bound to a tree, helplessly pleading for his life.
The jury believed her guilty of murder. But—this young wife is about to become a mother!

Within the year the child will come into this world. The baby will first see the light of day in prison, the mother a prisoner in a cell of "murderers' row". And if the sentence is not commuted the child will reach the threshold of maturity before the mother is released from prison. That child's life will be darkened by the shadow of the father's shameful death and blackened by the stain of the prison crime.

Thus the sins of the parents are visited upon the children! Yes, even to the third generation.
But that is the law of the land. The law now proceeds to punish this unborn child for the sins of its mother and father. It isn't right—to the child. It isn't justice—to the child.
Of course, you may say: "It is the parents' fault; they are to blame."
And, partly, you will be right. But hasn't society some interest, some concern, about the future of this child? Clearly it is for society—the state—to choose between punishing the mother for a criminal act, or giving justice to the child. The law cannot do both. It must do one or the other.

It were better "that ninety and nine guilty escape than that one innocent be punished!" Believe that way? Yes, and it were better that one guilty mother escape the prison cell than that one innocent babe should be compelled to crawl out of the shame of a prison cell!

PICNICS

This is the picnic season. City folks are having picnics in the country and the country folks are having picnics in the city—if they can get a day off.

Both kinds of folks find the traveling easier nowadays than long ago. The auto chugs along in half or a third of the time that Dobbin used to pace it.

But on the whole the new-fangled picnic is fashioned on old-fashioned lines. And everybody seems to be doing it. There's the young folks picnic and the family picnic. Different species of the same family. The young folks go in pretty much for angel's food, marshmallow roasts and fluffy stuff. And maybe moonlight.

But the family picnic is founded on firmer stuff than that. Father wants something that will "stick to the ribs" as he puts it. That accounts for fried chicken, beef loaf, plenty of bread and golden butter, green onions—plenty of them, dill pickles and pickles—several kinds—as well as a couple kinds of cake. Oh, yes, a few kinds of pies would be incomplete without a great offering of hard-boiled eggs.

Picnicking consists mainly of going, you might call him a summer villa.

BRINGING UP FATHER.

arriving, eating and returning. Polks will sit on the ground around a big white table cloth, watch the ants
climb over the food with amusement, and not be particular as to where the spiders sliding down their life lines, land. There's a joy in picnicking that neither time nor age can wither. And change of scene and routine is its secret.

THE BLIND FARMER

John Chase is 61. And blind. But for years he has farmed successfully at Sturbridge, Mass.
He spades. He plants. He harvests
his own crops. Potatoes. Corn.
Beans.

Planting he found easy, by string-ing a line of cord to guide his hand.
When the harvest is in he cuts cord
wood.

The point to be made here is not that he could do the work in spite of handicap, but that he does more work and better work than a man with sight.

The reason is simple. A man with sight will stop to watch every person or team that passes. Other things constantly distract his attention from his work.

But the blind man concentrates. His attention is not so easily or so frequently taken from the task at hand.

Chase soon found that he spaded
more ground in a day than two young men with sight had spaded. When he planted, the precision of the rows he set out was the subject of comment
throughout his neighborhood.

This efficiency is shown also by blind men and women in factories. No longer are blind men expected to devise their efforts to a certain few ill-paid crafts. An increasing number are being employed in machine shops and other plants at good wages. They are particularly effective in packing small articles, or goods like butter and eggs for shipment.

Everywhere they accomplish more in a given time than persons with sight. Always the reason is that they concentrate on their work.

THE FISHERMAN

"Study to be quiet," was the final admonition to his pupils made by Isaiah Walton.

As one races over the rails in the Pullman, or whizzes over the bridge in the touring car, these days, perhaps he sees sitting silently, and contemplative on a stream bank a person, rod or "pole" in hand. He is a sphinx, the breath of dawn. He's a brother of the fisherman's clan. He belongs.
Chances are he knows little of the advice so kindly given by Isaiah 300 years ago, but he knows that if he doesn't keep quiet he isn't nearly so likely to catch fish. And that's what he's after.

There's a difference between a fisherman and an angler. This fellow was a fisherman, pure and simple. He called it a "pole." If he'd been an angler he'd call it a "rod." He was out after meat. But as all in fishing is not entirely catching fish, a change is coming over men who practice the game. And the sport is just now coming into the first flush of its glory for this season.

A famous newspaper man says that the true angler does not measure his success by the size or the number of the fish he catches, for his days are always full of profitable pleasures.
"To him every minute in the woods or on the water offers something of interest, whether it be merely watching the wild people of the forest, the sunsets and the sunrises, the starry map overhead at night, or listening to the call of the birds, the wind in the trees
or the musical lap of waters."

Well, publicity concerning campaign contributions may give us advance information concerning our next ambassadors.

As a matter of fact, a statesman
can't devise a way to beat the profiteer unless he knows as much as the profiteer.

There is only one reason why people are not working, and that is because they can get along without it.

Considering the way he makes it hot for the big guys down there,

WALLY WOODCHUCK
DISAPPEARS

Tingaling started to go to Wally Woodchuck's kitchen to hunt for him,
because Wally hadn't come back with the sasaparilla for tea, which Mrs. Woodchuck was making for Nancy and Nick and the fairy landlord.

But when he got there, it was just as he had feared, no Wally was to be seen anywhere, not a hair of him, and the sasaparilla roots dangling from the ceiling hadn't been touched! "Aha!"

He said softly, "I understand now what all that pounding was that we heard a minute ago. Mr. Wally wasn't tendering the sasaparilla any more—he was digging diamonds. The fat rascal was digging another hallway out of his home so he could escape. Yes, sir, there it is. Wait until I catch him, though. I'll tie six bells on to him instead of one; the sly old scamp!" My, but Tingaling was mad! It was bad enough to have the woodchuck

Smile
Awhile
By Lee Hingston

O, the wind without is tuning up the sinews of its throat and it tries a lonely crooning, but it cannot get my goat, for what though the windows rattle to the melancholy tone,
whether Bangor or Seattle is the place where I'm alone, no sad musing shall beside me, even though I'm shorn of peep, my tobacco jar beside me, and my books upon the shelf. Life may be a sore deceiver and the future loom up dire, but I've got the works of Lever, and what more can man desire? Why to bright lights should I sally, there to waste my manly powers
when right here is Charles O'Malley,
and his friend Tom Burke of Ours;
and it puts a happy tint on all the lineaments of me to forego with Jack Hinton, and I laugh with Mickey Free. I have read until I'm weary of the war we've just been through and mine eyes grow dim and bleary calculating taxes due. Though I revel in the glories of the strife we won at last, there is something in the stories of those soldiers of the past, they who had to have a valet, one to every two or three, and were somewhat wont to dally with the wine of Mickey Free, that intrigues me rather madly as I read about the same and that vanished soon and sadly with our high efficient game. They might roll back some and revel, prohibition no one knew, but they played the very devil on the field of Waterloo.
For those wars no taxes hit me, so my virtuous all agree as I light my pipe and sit me down to laugh with Mickey Free.

"That husband of yours has got

"My, my!" exclaimed Mrs. Wood-look everywhere?" she asked.

WORTH WHILE HEALTH WORK.

During 15 months of the war 1917-1918, 1,000 cases of social diseases were reported in the army camps, resulting in a loss of two and one-half million training days. More than 80 per cent of this infection was brought into the army from civil life, not contracted after admission to the army.

These figures are cited merely to citizen can be of the very greatest good idea of the danger of vice dis-

It is no longer possible to keep them

PROF. FISHBONE ON FIREARMS

FIREARMS should not be given to those more than 64 years of age, because of the tendency of the young to swallow their food without chewing.
They become dangerous only when left in damp places without shoes. Their use is various. They make acceptable kitchen cabinets, door mats, or substitutes for flutes at meals. Again, they are popular in the dry goods and herring trade. To load firearms, first remove the bicuspid and insert the detractor in the epiglottis, with reference to the spout or ashpan. Introduce a hiatus, and set in a warm place to dry. Drink after the third day.

IN A TURKISH BATH

BY EDMUND VANCE COOKE

Now this is the night which occurred one night
When the Turkish tanks were full,
And the serfs of wealth were seeking new health
All minus of silk and wool.
There were gargoyled frocks of claws and beaks
Which surely were human—once;
There were wattled chins and mottled skins
And protuberant furs and fronts.
There were spiral backs and chests too lax,
There were flaccid, flabby flanks,
And many were joined, hippopotami grained,
On a lean giraffe's thin shanks

Now God made man on a god-made plan
If the Olden Tale be truth,
And He made him slim and straight and trim
So he shone with the glow of youth.
Aye, and still as a child and undefiled,
He grows on the godly plan,
And he holds the cast till the time be past
That he passes from youth to man.
Then, being God-grown, he may model his own
As the lines of his life are grooved,
And the image God made changes shade by shade
And the model is scarce improved.
So now, if the Eye, as it glances by,
Peeps into this Bath today,
I can fancy a start at the Infinite heart
And a gasp of divine dismay:

"Was it on this plan that I made The Man?
Or how did I chance to err?
By what fatal flaw of creative law
Could this uncouth thing occur?
And what—a mistake for a God to make
Not to cover This Shape with fur?"

Confessions of a Bride

(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

I WRITE BOB MY LOVE FOR HIM
IS NOT ALL OF THE SPIRIT

"From your own account it seems to me that you and Chrys are too much obsessed with the notion that love is bound to grow stale," said Bob as I lighted another cigarette for him. "Goodness gracious, Bob! How can we help it? Didn't the war result in a lot of the most startling matrimonial upsets? Only a part of them get into the papers. But just count the fickle hearts and broken vows
you and I have heard about in the last year—all due to separations caused by the war."

"Too many for my arithmetical powers, my love. I suppose all those unconventional war romances do explain the popular fashion of considering love a transient emotion. The fact is that ideal love is a perfect product of human feelings and hunan intelligence. We know, don't we, darling?"

A kiss was the obvious answer to that.
"I say that it's a shame to talk so much about love as an illusion," Bob continued. "I guess that only those who go on the rocks ever lose faith in love. What's your notion, sweetheart?"
"I—I've a lot of notions, Bob—I—I might write them out for you—some day, dearest."

"Do it," he replied with a gay laugh.
"Grand scheme! Maybe it will keep you out of some new and distressing adventure!"

"Can anything be more distressing than love is—offtimes?" I asked myself after Bob had left the room. And I wondered if I would ever be able to show him what I wrote that very day.

"My dear Husband"—I began.
"There's a love of the flesh and a love of the spirit and sometimes I think that you and I have never talked openly about the differences between the two. A happy marriage is founded on both. And sometimes I think that you do not know that my love
isn't all—of the spirit."

"I know that artists glorify passion, and that cynics mistake it for the total of love between the sexes
and that prudles and censor deny it any right to exist. We both know that it will wreck any matrimonial bark if it is the only cargo for a life long cruise.

"Passion demands everything,
takes everything, and gives nothing.
Neither you nor I, Bob, can demand, or accept love as a sacrifice. That is the supreme test of our love, I am sure. And I know that you will understand me perfectly when I say that although the touch of your hand thrills me, that although I love it, I can get along without it. But never, never, can I get along without the sound of your dear voice."

"Chrys was right, doubtless, when she quoted that queer theory about sex-revolution. Sex-antagonism is as much a fact as sex-attraction, I suppose. And I do not want "the usual thing" to happen in our case, my love.

"To avoid the usual catastrophe, I have resolved that I never want to dominate your coming and your going and your doing. I do not want to irritate you by making imperative demands upon you. I don't want you to feel that love is a web, a net and a trap."

"Sex-attraction doesn't change to repulsion until a man has lost his liberty. When he is no longer free, a man—perhaps a very good man—may kill the thing he loves—with a bitter look."

"The illusions of love about which it is the fashion to complain are not of the spirit, as people pretend, but are altogether the deceptions of the flesh."

"You and I will never—"

Then Chrys came in abruptly and my letter to my husband was brought to a sudden stop.

Mrs. Wallace states, that judging from the work which is being done at rehearsals, Dixon's Circus and Hippodrome, will be one of the biggest and best shows which she has ever produced. The large stage of the Assembly Auditorium furnishes opportunity for a most beautiful stage setting. There will be new dances, pretty girls, elaborate costumes and the best of Dixon's dancing, singing and comedy talent is taking part in the show. The management is so sure that the Circus and Hippodrome will be the biggest and best production that Dixon has ever seen, that they are advertising to refund admission to anyone who is not satisfied with the show.

Many Women Given Keys to Murdered N. Y. Man's Rooms

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, June 12.—Twenty-four hours after the murder of Joseph E. Elwell, wealthy sportsman and authority on whist, the police admitted today that they were virtually without an important clue as to who shot him at his home in this city.

Detectives attached some importance to the story told by Elwell's chauffeur, Edward B. Rhodes, that he knew a number of women friends had keys to Mr. Elwell's home. These women were wont to come and go at will, Rhodes told the police.

Shock-Absorbers For False Teeth

Cleveland, May 1.—Non-Skid Shock Absorbers for false teeth are the latest thing. Heretofore the principle of shock absorbers has been limited in application but now a Cleveland chemical concern advertises a powder which sprinkled upon "store teeth," forms a smooth cushion, holds them firmly in place, and gives a "non-skid" effect while they romp over the toughest roasting ears of corn and chew the stickiest candy.

One who has lost his natural teeth can supply himself with this antiseptic, adhesive comfort powder—Coraga—at a drug store, and proceed to laugh and sneeze, crack nuts and do other hazardous things without risk of shaking his prized false teeth from their upper and lower berths. 35c at druggists.—Adv.

He said the institute had advised against taking out patents for 12,157 ideas presented thus saving to members patent attorneys fees estimated at $850,990. Sixty-one members of the institute, the report said, had received in excess of $3,000,000 for exploitation of their ideas.

Labor Says G. O. P. Turned Back On It

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Montreal, June 12.—The Republican convention has "turned its back upon labor" and has adopted a platform "defiant in its defense of the enemies of labor and calculated to secure for them fresh advantages and greater privileges," Samuel Gompers, and Matthew Woll, president and vice president of the American Federation of Labor declared here today at the federation's annual convention.

The labor declaration of the platform, as adopted, they asserted purposes and industrial enslavement and an abrogation of rights as precious as life itself.

"While there is in the platform a certain shrewdness in section of language, there is never any opportunity for doubt as to the true meaning of their provisions relating to labor," they added.

"The Republican platform practically ignores the profiteer," the statement said, "and while recognizing the evils of currency inflation offers no remedy for that condition."

MOTOR NOTES

PERHAPS THIS WILL LESSEN ACCIDENTS

"Safety First" and "Danger" signs did not stop the careless from driving into accidents, the Auto Club of Southern California found. So its members hit upon the novel scheme of presenting the drivers with the plain facts. Signs like this were put up at dangerous intersections, with the result that these were noted where the others, having become common-place slogans, were passed by unobserved. Now the park director of Cleveland wants similar signs put up within the city park limits.

REPAIR RADIATOR.

In case of a leak in a honey-comb radiator, get a bolt longer than the depth of the radiator and fine enough to go through the hole in the honey-comb. Put it where the leak is, place a rubber washer on each end and a steel washer over these and tighten the nut on the bolt tight enough to stop the leak.

KEEP SPRING CLIPS TIGHT.

If any of your spring give way at the center bolt hole, it is because the spring clips were not tight. Dealers and manufacturers will not replace springs broken at this point for this reason. The safe way is to draw the nuts up as close as possible with a wrench big enough to make certain of their being tight. The clips should be watched and tightened often.

GETTING OUT OF A RUT.

When a rear wheel is in a mud-hole so that it spins, apply the emergency brake gently. This will give enough resistance to the spinning wheel to let the other wheel pull the car out. The decrease in engine speed because of the brake pressure can be made up by opening the throttle a little.

OBITUARY.

THOMAS SAUER

Ogle Co., Republican.—Death ended several months of suffering for Thomas Sauer, Thursday evening, June 3. Thomas, eldest son of Nicholas and Elizabeth Sauer, was born in this city, November 9, 1905, and was well known and loved by all in the community. He was an industrious lad who went about his work accepting life with a cheerful philosophy unusual in one of his years.

Always thoughtful for the care of his parents and younger brother and sister, he and Margaret, his loss to them is doubly felt.

He was in the eighth grade in school a student with a wide range of reading; he was also a loyal member of the Boy Scouts.

Thomas was taken seriously ill last December but for a short while recovered sufficiently to return to his school duties. During the month of March he became worse and was taken to the Dixon hospital. After ten weeks spent there under Dr. Murphy's care he came home to spend the last few weeks of his life.

The funeral service was conducted Monday at ten o'clock in the morning, from St. Mary's church, the pastor, Rev. Fr. Vollman, officiating. Six Boy Scouts, Edward Etnyre, Henry

A Roosevelt road, lined with memorial trees, is the latest plan for the perpetuation of the former president's memory. It has been proposed by Charles L. Pack, president of the American Forestry association, who has also sought the co-operation of automobile associations.

The Pennsylvania state constabulary are coming off their fine horses, and will hereafter police the state on motorcycles. This became known when a contract was recently awarded to a motorcycle manufacturer for 70 of his latest model machines.

Fully 25 per cent of those applying for licenses as automobile operators in New York are being rejected by the examiners. The examination is considered one of the strictest in the country.

When you're bumping over a particularly rough and rutty road, think what a worse time you'd have down in Chile. Complete descriptions of the highways there are contained in this short sentence—"The roads are very hard on tires."

Southern states show the largest proportions gain in automobile registration this year. This, it is said, is

HERE'S PROOF THAT AUTO SAVES LIVES

Credit the motor car with being a rural life saver. Yes, the death rate in the country districts is due for a fall, since more and more physicians are climbing into automobiles to reach more patients faster than ever.

Two-thirds of the 150,000 physicians in the United States, according to the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, own automobiles. And more than 90 per cent of the country doctors visit their clients in motor cars.

When the horse and buggy was the best means of transportation, the doctor spent a longer time traveling and could visit only a small number of patients. Result—a higher death rate on the farms than in cities. Now that most country physicians have taken to automobiles, it is believed the death rate will decrease considerably.

due to the fact that there have been heavy demands for cotton during and since the war, which has put the south in a strong financial position and has enabled the cotton growers to use motor power for transportation.

New Jersey motorists have gained a point against the overloaded truck that is an extra burden on the roads. The highway commission has decided to place a fine on all trucks passing through the state overloaded. Scales will be ready on the different highways and when a passing truck is believed to be carrying more weight than allowed by license, it will be weighed. If overweighted a fine will be imposed.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Siefertman, of Freeport.

The remains were laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery, west of Oregon. The sympathy of a great number of friends goes out to the parents, brother and sister in this home that has been so darkened by the passing of this son and brother.

WILLIAM C. HOLDREN

William Clarence Holdren, eldest son of John and Phoebe Holdren, was born at White Hall, Pa., June 15, 1850, and died at Rochelle, June 9, 1920.

When a small child he came with his parents to Illinois and Lee Co. has always been his home. In 1880 he was married to Margaret Madden who lived but a few months. In Feb. 28, 1883 he was united in marriage to Marilla Adrian who preceded him in death about eight years ago. To this union were born three children, Fannie Burd of Dixon, John Holdren and Emma Johnson of Compton. Besides the three children he leaves four grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Elvora Mannon of Dixon and Mrs. Janet Duntain of Paw Paw and two brothers Edward of Clinton, Iowa and Sherman of Compton.

He was initiated into Brooklyn lodge No. 282 Ancient Free and Accepted Masons April 5, 1876 and raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason July 5, 1876. He was a good

TOURIST COLLECTS TIPS TO HELP WEEK-ENDERS

Week-enders and campers who do not care to spend their vacations alongside some road underneath their automobiles, may find considerable help in the advice of A. L. Westgard, field representative of the American Automobile Association. Having gone through various experiences and met all sorts of difficulties on the road, he has compiled the lessons he has learned for uninitiated tourists.

"Before starting on a motor camping tour," says Westgard, look over the tool box. His list includes various kinds of wrenches, pliers, a hammer, screw drivers, files, wire, nuts, bolts, cotter pins, tire valves, a tire pressure gauge, spark plugs, ring, a talcum powder, tape, an extra valve and spring, a grease gun and an extra spring clip and bolts.

Besides these extras there should be a spare tire or two some extra tubes carefully packed in burlap to keep from chafing, puncture and blow-out patches and inner boots, a tire pump, a jack and small plank to be used as a case on soft ground; Weed chains a few extra cross chains; a towering rope; a collapsible canvas bucket and a five-gallon water bag; an upper and lower rubber hose connection for the radiator with clamps; a box of cup grease and a can of lubricating oil.

Mrs. Catt to Head World's Association

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Geneva, June 11.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, was unanimously re-elected president of the International Woman's Suffrage Alliance at this morning's session of its congress here. She has agreed to accept the office it was announced despite declaration in a speech yesterday that she felt compelled to retire.

MANY KIDS EMPLOYED.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 11. — More children are employed in Chicago this year than ever before according to Clyde Brown, head of the working certificate bureau of the board of education.
The high cost of living and high wages paid juvenile workers is blamed by local educators for the increase. Approximately 30,000 children between the ages of 14 and 16 have jobs—an increase of more than 13,000 over last year.
